

Family Financial Freedom:

What To Do If You Weren't Born Rich

May 5, 2020

The FFF Newsletter is posted on the website on Tuesday afternoon/evening. You will receive an email reminder when the website has been updated.

Listed stocks qualify with the candidate criteria listed in the Family Financial Freedom book: equities priced over $25, the CCI has recently been overbought or oversold and 2 EMA is close to crossing the 13 EMA. You, of course, can locate and trade options on the equities that are of interest to you, but for traders who do not have the time to locate stocks or if you want to add to those you have found, these can be added to a watch list.

Equities move at their own pace. It may be that some candidates will move quickly, will be slow, or will reverse all together. Add and delete these symbols to your watch list based on their price action. If you don't like a stock's pattern or the company, delete it. If you miss a price move, delete it. If you are considering a trade, continue to watch its price action until it confirms the pattern before entry.

Opening a trade on these trade candidates should be based on proper chart due diligence.

Commentary:

Commentary from 2/4***

American Elec Pwr Co. Inc. (AEP) was on the January 7th newsletter.

Looking at the daily chart we can see that the CCI was oversold. The 2 EMA moved above the 13 EMA earlier that day, so we could start looking for a call trade to enter.

If you had bought AEP on January 7th you would have bought the May20 95 calls for 2.55.

AEP has followed the F3 pattern with the 2 EMA staying above the 13 EMA but you would still be this trade today.

At the end of day on 2/4 the AEP May20 95 calls were at 8.40 a profit of 229%

Chatroom:

Some FFF, P3, T3, PSS and SFWB traders visit a chatroom created to offer support and to answer questions. Not all traders trade the same strategies or patterns, but there is a sense of camaraderie and a willingness to lend a helping hand in indicator understanding. It is a great place to meet new friends who have an interest in common. The chatroom can be found at <http://chatroll-cloud-1.com/option-trading>. It is free, sign up at chatroll, create a login name and password, then go to the option-trading room. The room is open 24/7, but traders usually hang out when they can during market hours 9:30-4:00 EST.

There is another scheduled chat at <http://chatroll-cloud-1.com/option-trading> on Saturday at 11:30 AM ET where traders meet to discuss various aspects of trading.
